DEATH OF HON. JOHN W. HEAD. GENTLEMEN'S FINE CLOTHING

At a largely-attended meeting of the Nashville bar, which was held in the Circuit Court room at 3 o'clock yesterd y afternoon, to take action relative to the death of the Hon. John W. Head, Congressman elect from the Fourth District, Gen. W. B. Bate was called to the chai and George B. Guild appointed secretary On taking the chair, Gen. Bate briefl explained the object of the meeting an paid a touching tribute to the deceased They had been reared together, and through life he had found in him a steadfast friend a man of unblemished character, with a man of unblemished character, w nothing mean or vicious in his nature. On motion, Baxter Smith, J. B. Malo W. K. McAllister, E. B. McClanahan,

J. W. McKinny, were appointed a committee to draft sultable resolutions. The committee retired and during its absence, JUDGE NATHANIEL BAXTER took the floor, and said he had alwe cherished a peculiar regard for Col. "Whereas, we have just learned of the death of the Hon. John W. Head, at his residence in Summer county, and being de sirous of giving expression to the sense of profound sorrow which this intelligence has produced; therefore, be it Resolved, first, That in the death of Col. Head, the Commonwealth of Ten-nessee and the country at large have sustained a serious loss, because, as a citizen, he was worthy, as a lawyer, accomplished, as a jurist, clear and comprehensive, and as a member elecof the Forty-fourth Congress gave the coun try by his honored career in the other departments of public life in which had been called to act, assurance that as a Federal Representative, he would, by his zeal, integrity, and rare ability, nationalize his reputation and do much to restore order and prosperity to our long disturbed coun-

Resolved, second, That to his bereaved family we tender our sincerest condolence." The chairman of the committee, Baxter Smith, said he thought it unnecessary to enlarge upon what had already been said by those present, but on this occasion he felt the most profound sorrow. Judge East moved that the resolutions be pread upon the minutes, published in the Nashville and Gallatin papers, and a copy of them sent to the family of the deceased. The motion prevailed, and EX-GOV. NEILL S. BROWN proceeded to speak in eulogistic terms of Col. Head. He had known him for a quarter of accentury, and he was a lawyer of the first grade. Without any disparagement to his colleagues he would say that he was surpassed by none. He had known him in troubled times and political strife and had never heard him utter an unkind word. It was a just tribute to him to say that his only fear was to fall short of his duty. To discharge his duiy was his highest aim. As far as mortal eyes could see he had died at the wrong time. It would be hard to supply his place.

E. B. M'CLANAHAN spoke in fitting terms of his association with Col. Head, alluded to his high posi-tion as a jurist, and said he had never heard any man say aught against him. He had sunk down at a time when his country called most loudly for his services. He was a just man and would leave behind him many sweet memories of what he had said and done.

Judge J. O. Shacklefod said known Col. Head since 1858, and had always been struck with the clearness with which he argued his cause. He was a fine advocate and thoroughly learned in his profession. He had the unbounded confidence of all who knew him. The people had sustained a great loss in his death. He knew that when he was in Congress he would stand up for the right, regardless of party. His place could not be filled. W. K. M'ALLISTER

THE McKINLY MURDER. Release of James Bush on $10,000

Our readers doubtless remember the facts connected with the murder of Dick Mc-Kinly, a helpless old negro, in Putnam county, on the night of the 28th of August ast, and that one Frank Hall confessed that himself, Alex. Draper, Tim Apple, Jas. Petty, Jr., Blooth Callicut, James and John Bush and Carell Reed had deliberately killed the old man, being in disguise at the Callient and James Bush were arreste soon after, the former placed with Hall in the Putnam county jail, and the latter con-fined in the jail of Smith county. A few nights thereafter, Hall and Callicut were taken from the jail by a large party of masked men, Hall brutally murdered and Callicut released. Judge Fite then ordered Bush removed from Smith county jail to the Davidson county juil, and about ten days ago Callicut was re-captured and brought to Nashville for safe-keeping, two nen-E. E. H. Roberts and Manier-having been arrested in Jackson county a few days before and brought to Nashville on the charge of being implicated in the assault upon the Put-nam county jail, and murder of Hall. Yesterday a petition for the release of James Bush was argued before Judge Guild and granted, the prisoner being represented by John R. Murray, of Cookeville. Gen. Quarles appearing for the State. Several witnesses from Smith county were in attendance, among them John Bush, father of the prisoner, Joshna Dickens, Thos. Draper, Jas. Draper, — Apple, Elizabeth Apple, and Marsha Jane Apple. The three latter swore positively that Bush was at their house the night McKinley was killed. and as there was but little evidence offered on the part of the State, Bush was released on $10,000 bond, half the amount being on the charge of going in disguise, and the re-mainder on the charge of murdering McKiney. Dickens, the two Drapers and the father of the prisoner became his bonds-While confined at the jail Bush excited suspicion that he was not as ignorant as be pretended. He claimed that he had always lived on a farm in Smith county, and that he had never been ten miles away from home. He said he did not know where Jackson county was, though, according to his own account, he has always lived within four miles of the line between Smith and Jackson. Some of the attaches of the jail say, too, that he has heretofore claimed that he was at a different place entirely, the night of the murder, to that testified to yesterday. The killing of McKinley was a horrible affair-blood hirsty and unprovoked, and all good citizens will unite in a wish that the men who so cruelly put him to death they so richly deserve. Haughty Southern Insolence. A few days since a party from New York, consisting of three ladies and a gen-

Finding the party very agreea-ble, the gentleman did all in his power to render their visit to the Capitol a pleasant one, remaining in their company nearly two hours. Upon separating, after mutual expressions of good will, the New Yorker remarked: "Sir, we traveled from New then went to Atlanta and visited at that point. From Atlanta we came to Nashville in a leisurely way, and I tell you we have met this same 'haughty Southern in-solence' all through. My friends in New

foot 6 inches on the shoals. Capt. T. G. Ryman writes to the Eronsville Courier that the steamers Shippers Own and Bolivar H. Cooke, both familian to Nashville, are running and doing well The Cooke has cleared, since she was purble at low figures at T. E. Winstead & Co's | chased by her present owners, $7,100, and is now making $50 per day. The Shippers' Own has done not so well, but has made the past summer $3,300 by running as an independent pendent freighter. She is now plying he tween Evansville and Gincinnati. The purchasers hope to pay all that is ow ing on the Cooke, which they could do now, except about $1,500, and then have $13,000 of stock for sale, or pro rata distri-bution among the stockholders. Capt. By man says the two boats are not likely t have any opposition next season, and closes with "the goose bangs high and love ly, and is still laying golden egs. The Gen. Anderson, now, perhaps, the oldest steamboat running upon the Western waters, was originally owned at Nashville by A. Hamilton, Jas. Miller, B. M. Run yan and Geo. Stacker.
